

ANDREA GUTHRIE

DESIGNER

I'm driven by helping teams solve problems and deeply enjoy aligning each project's performance to its highest goal.

People often comment on how well I deliver on commitments, and I'm passionate about creative problem solving. In my role at Idibri, I help diagnose and resolve the kinds of noise issues that frustrate people. I love that part of my job. It's incredibly satisfying to remove the barriers to help a space become what it was designed to be.
