Training facility for the Nationals and Astros giving fans close access to the Spring Training experience.

The 160-acre FITTEAM Ballpark of the Palm Beaches features six practice fields for the Houston Astros and six fields for the Washington Nationals. Of all 12 practice fields, two have the same configurations as Nationals Park in Washington and Minute Maid Park in Houston. The primary stadium includes a main concourse with multiple food and beverage options, two party decks, and six suites.

Not only is the complex designed for the latest in training, but it is also designed to give fans access to an intimate baseball experience. Amenities include lawn seating for up to 1,000, a 360-degree open-air concourse, playground, community plaza, city park and a 1.75 mile walking trail.
